The Einhell TC-MS 3017 T crosscut and miter saw with table is an efficient and versatile tool for workshops and hobby areas. With 2000 watts of power it works its way with precision through standard workshop materials. The saw blade is carbide-tipped, the cross stop and the parallel stop are infinitely adjustable, as is the turntable which can be used for infinitely variable crosscutting. Operation as an infinitely adjustable bench-type circular saw is also possible. Used as a crosscut saw, the saw head can be tilted by up to 45 degrees to the left. Workpiece supports are provided on both sides for long items. To keep the workplace clean there is also a 36-mm dust extraction connector.
